SECTION IX - NARRATIVE

On 26 Mar 2015 I [REDACTED] while posted as the on duty flight chief was contacted by [REDACTED] at approximately 0755 to meet with him at his office inside of bldg. 122. Minutes later I met with [REDACTED] and he informed me that [REDACTED] had reported a possible vandalism of personal property of one of his subordinates at the Operations building 194. [REDACTED] and I went directly to bldg. 194 and met with [REDACTED] who escorted us to the operations commanders office [REDACTED] When we entered the office [REDACTED] briefed us on the incident that had taken place and there I learned that the victim was [REDACTED]. We were informed that articles of [REDACTED] uniform were vandalized in the women's restroom located upstairs west of the elevator north of the men's restroom. It was suspected that [REDACTED] boots, socks and blousing straps had been urinated on. [REDACTED] along with her supervisor [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] escorted [REDACTED] and I to the restroom to show us what they discovered. [REDACTED] relayed that she entered the women's restroom to change into her uniform for work at approximately 0700 on 26 Mar 2015. She stated that when she entered she noticed a bad smell in the restroom and figured it was the sewage system. [REDACTED] relayed to us that she normally leaves her uniform in the bathroom stall located in the far west side of the restroom and changes there in the morning and then changes into PT clothes at the end of the day and will leave the uniform there overnight for the next day. I asked her why she leaves her uniform in the restroom and she stated it was easier because the restroom is upstairs and her office is upstairs and figured it was okay since that not many people use that restroom. She then stated she will no longer be carrying on this practice. She continued on and showed us that she uses the chair located in the bathroom stall to stage her uniform and her boots are placed on the side of the chair closes to the wall with her socks and blousing straps stuffed inside. I noticed that the uniform and boots were not located where she described. She stated that she had bagged the boots, socks and blousing straps. They were placed on the floor near the entrance. I then looked at the bag and asked if the uniform was in there as well and she stated that uniform was bagged and placed back in her office. She stated that her blouse, trousers and sand tee shirt had no evidence of being urinated on. She continued to show us how she normally gets ready and when she reached for her socks and noticed the sock was wet and smelled of the same odor that she noticed when she first entered into the restroom. She then called her supervisor [REDACTED] to come to the restroom to get her opinion on what the scent was. [REDACTED] (AF Form 1168) [REDACTED] arrived moments later and stated the scent was very strong when she entered the restroom. She relayed to [REDACTED] that it smelled like urine. [REDACTED] then inspected the socks that were now on the ground and confirmed with [REDACTED] that they appeared to have been urinated on and not to touch anything until leadership was notified. [REDACTED] also stated she noticed a puddle of urine where the boots were located. (See [REDACTED] AF Form 1168). At approximately 0725 [REDACTED] was notified of the incident and went over the women's restroom at the request of [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. He requested that the items were bagged up and left in the restroom. (See [REDACTED] AF Form 1168) At this time [REDACTED] informed [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] that they would have to provide their statements and sent them to see [REDACTED] for statement collection. [REDACTED] advised me that he would be contacting Alert Photo to take pictures of the scene and evidence and to get me an extra set of hands to help me with the investigation and that I would be relieved of my flight chief duties. At approximately 0820hrs, [REDACTED] arrived on scene to start taking crime scene photos. At approximately 0830hrs [REDACTED] arrived on scene to assist me. I asked [REDACTED] to gather PPE; evidence tags AF Form 52, collection bags and a vile from medical in order to collect the liquid on the ground that was suspected to be urine. At around 0905 [REDACTED] was done taking photos and departed the scene. [REDACTED] returned with the required items and assisted me in collecting the suspected urine on the floor and the bag containing the boots, sock and blousing straps. The floor was very dirty so I tried very hard to collect only clean liquid samples but it was impossible to do so, the vile of collected urine has dirt and other particles mixed in the sample. At approximately 0925 all the evidence had been collected and we marked and taped off the area so that no one would enter the restroom. I was informed by [REDACTED] that [REDACTED] was in command post reviewing the recordings from the camera system starting from 1500hrs the previous day. I was informed that [REDACTED] was in the process of getting a finger print collection kit from Fresno PD. [REDACTED] and I made our way to bldg. 130, Vault-1 to process the collected evidence. All evidence was logged in at 1020hrs. We headed back to bldg. 194 where we met with [REDACTED] who gave us the finger print kit. At approximately 1035hrs we reentered the scene to try and collect latent prints but we were unsuccessful in collecting any usable prints. We departed the scene at approximately 1100hrs so that we could speak with [REDACTED] before she was released for the day. [REDACTED] was already at the building speaking with [REDACTED] when I entered his office at approximately 1105hrs. We had her walk us through the events again starting with when she left work the night before. She stated she dressed into her PT clothes and headed to the gym around 1530. Once her work out was complete she departed the base around 1630 and didn't return until the next morning. We asked her if there was anyone she had problems with that may want to do this to her. (To protect [REDACTED] privacy and the privacy of the other base members, I am not including details of personal matters between her and other members of the base in this report unless the details are relevant to solving the case.) [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were identified by [REDACTED] as individuals who have had issues with [REDACTED] in personal matters. It was learned that [REDACTED] used to supervise [REDACTED] when [REDACTED] worked in the command post. [REDACTED] stated it was not a healthy work environment for her because of the common dislike for one another and the personal matters that caused friction between them. I asked if there had been anything recent regarding [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] expressed that they both just stay away from each other and there was nothing of significance between them in over a year. I asked her about [REDACTED] and if there have been any recent incidents or altercations between them. [REDACTED] shared that [REDACTED] and her do not speak and that they have never really had any altercations but are in a complicated scenario involving spouses and children. [REDACTED] expressed that this incident is really out of nowhere because she has not had any recent issues with anyone on base. [REDACTED] then shared that even though she hasn't had any recent issues she suspected [REDACTED] was at fault. She stated that [REDACTED] was at command post that night and she wasn't even scheduled to work that day. I asked how she learned of this and she stated after she discovered what happened to her boots she contacted command post to see who had been working. [REDACTED] who worked command post that night informed [REDACTED] who was working day shift and night shift and let her know that [REDACTED] was there but wasn't scheduled to work. We asked if [REDACTED] had anything else that she thought we should know. [REDACTED] stated she couldn't think of anything else that could help so we thanked her for her time and she left. [REDACTED] relayed to [REDACTED] to start searching for [REDACTED] in the recordings and explained to me he was going to help with review of the camera recording as well. Moments later I spoke with [REDACTED] and we went over her statement and asked her how her relationship with [REDACTED] was. She stated they have a good relationship and sees herself as a mentor to [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] did express to me that in the past she and [REDACTED] did not always get along but they resolved their differences and now consider themselves friends. I asked if she was aware of [REDACTED] history with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and she stated she was aware of the details. She also stated that those issues seemed to have dissipated and that to her knowledge nothing has really been going on with either of them. I asked if there was anyone else that she knew of who may have had a less than favorable relationship with [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] stated that [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] have had their differences but everything between them seems to be fine. [REDACTED] couldn't think of anything else that could help so we concluded then interview and I thanked her for her time. At approximately 1200hrs [REDACTED] informed me that after reviewing the cameras in bldg. 194 there is no video evidence of who actually goes into the women's restroom and that we cannot monitor the far east entry door so there is no way to determine if anyone exited or entered through that door. I asked if he was able to locate [REDACTED] and relayed he did see her in the videos but after a few hours of trying to view multiple cameras and many people coming in and out he wasn't sure exactly how many times she was in and out. I asked [REDACTED] if he could take [REDACTED] and I up to command post so that we may review the cameras ourselves. At this time [REDACTED] wanted an update and to join us at command post as well as [REDACTED]. We were able to access the alarm log to help us locate what time people came in and out of command post. After reviewing the camera recordings we were able to determine that [REDACTED] entered the building in uniform through the west double doors at approximately 1919hrs and enters the command post about two minutes later approximately 1921hrs. At 2013 [REDACTED] exits command post and at 2015hrs exits the building. At 2116 [REDACTED] reenters bldg. 194 through west double doors this time in civilian clothes and enters command post about two minutes later at approximately 2118hrs. At approximately

2223hrs [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] exit command post and about three minutes later [REDACTED] leaves the building and doesn't return. After about two hours of reviewing the cameras, we all decided that it would be best to set up interviews for the next day and for me to interview the command post controllers because there are they here 24hrs and may have seen more than what the cameras show. On 27 Mar 2015 [REDACTED] and I set up interviews with [REDACTED], [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. At 0830 we spoke [REDACTED] who stated that he and [REDACTED] were friends and was aware of the past differences between [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] but also stated that he was not aware of any issues between them in the last year or two. I asked if he knew why [REDACTED] was at work when she was not scheduled to be here. [REDACTED] explained that earlier she had a SNCO test at base training and that there was a malfunction with the computers and that she was utilizing the computer at command post to get some extra study time. I asked if anything seemed suspicious that night he may have noticed or if he noticed anyone else in the building that is usually not there. He stated everything seemed normal that night. [REDACTED] confirmed that he and [REDACTED] exited command post together and she was speaking to him about the SNCOA course and how her day was hectic because she was in [REDACTED] attending TAPs that week and still had to take the test that crashed on her. He stated that they walked down the stairs and he went into the men's locker room and she exited the building and didn't see her the rest of the night. I asked him if in his opinion he could see [REDACTED] doing something like this given their past and he stated he couldn't see her doing anything like this. He stated that he and [REDACTED] were not friends but maintain a professional working relationship. The interview was concluded. Next we spoke with [REDACTED] at 0940. [REDACTED] explained to us the differences that stand between her and [REDACTED] but relayed that they both just keep their distances from each other and that was easy to do because they work on opposite sides of the base. I asked [REDACTED] if she knew where the women's restroom was located in bldg. 194 and she explained that she had never been inside the building. The interview was concluded. At 1000hrs we spoke with [REDACTED] and she explained that the previous morning she saw the reaction of [REDACTED] and asked what was wrong. [REDACTED] explained to her what had happened and showed [REDACTED] the restroom along with [REDACTED]. I asked her if she was shown the restroom because she and [REDACTED] are good friends. She explained that she wouldn't call them good friends but that they are currently friends on good terms. She then explained that she and [REDACTED] have had minor issues in the past but that things were fine now. I asked if she knew the details of the relationship between [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and [REDACTED]. [REDACTED] explained that she did. She stated that [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] were very nice people and that she has never had an issue with either of them. She has never seen [REDACTED] in the building or on that side of the base. She also stated that this would not be in character for [REDACTED] who has been nothing but professional and overall a nice person to be around. The interview was concluded. There were no other interviews that day because of work schedules and we did not have permission to call people in on their days off. I set up interviews with the rest of the controllers who were scheduled to work on Sunday 29 Mar 2015. After interviews were concluded for the day I updated [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and informed them I would be going back to command post to review the cameras once again. After over 3 hours of reviewing footage I learned that there was no evidence that [REDACTED] ever entered the building that night. I also learned that from 1530hrs 25 Mar to 0700hrs 26 Mar there were more people that entered and exited than I could count or identify. Also once someone enters the building it is almost impossible to follow exactly where and when they enter other areas of the building. There is a camera that points at the command post door but it doesn't show if someone used the stairs, elevator or came from the offices on the opposite side or if someone accessed the restroom area. The cameras vantage point only shows once someone is about half way to the command post door. I noticed that at [REDACTED] exited command post at 2026hrs for about 45sec and returns with a role of paper towels in her hands. Once I was done reviewing the cameras I concluded for the day. On 29 Mar 2015 at 0744 I spoke with [REDACTED] one of the controllers during the night in question. He stated that he was on common ground with both [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and the he was unaware of any issues between the two. He stated that he saw [REDACTED] that night at work and that she was there studying for her SNCOA test. He did not see anything or anyone out of the ordinary. At 0755 I spoke with [REDACTED] who explained to me that [REDACTED] was on Leave and would be back to work for drill. [REDACTED] stated she was good friends with [REDACTED] and that she was well aware of the past between the two. I asked if she was aware of any recent issues with the two of them and she explained that she was not aware of anything recent and that everything that had happened was a while ago. [REDACTED] stated she has never had any personal issues with [REDACTED] but when they worked together in command post she was difficult person at times to work alongside and supervise. Since the move to the new building she stated that they rarely see [REDACTED]. She confirmed that [REDACTED] was at work to study for the SNCOA test. She said that after TAPs was concluded for the day [REDACTED] arrived in uniform to see if she could access her password and program from work in order to see if she could study from home the rest of the night. [REDACTED] then stated that [REDACTED] was unsuccessful in being able to study from home so she came back to utilize the command post computers this time in civilian clothes. I asked [REDACTED] if she herself entered the women's restroom that night and she stated she did because the restroom in command post was all out of paper towels. I asked if she noticed anything out of the ordinary or smelled anything strange or utilized the stalls. She stated she did not enter any of the stalls she did not smell or see anything but that she didn't really pay attention because she went in briefly just to grab paper towels and went right back to post. I asked her if she could ever see [REDACTED] doing something like this given their past and she stated there was no way and that it would be way out of her character. [REDACTED] stated she did not see anyone or anything out of the ordinary during her shift. On 11 Apr 2015 at 1340hrs I was finally able to schedule an interview with [REDACTED]. I explained to her that through preliminary interviews her name had come up and that I wanted to know what she knew about then incident. She stated that she found out about the incident a day or two later and that it was very unfortunate and that even though her and [REDACTED] were not friends she would not wish that on a fellow Airmen. I explained that was aware of the past between them and that we didn't have to discuss any details about her personal life if she didn't want to. She explained that she was fine and wanted me to hear her side of things. I then asked her to explain how the day unfolded for her on 25 Mar 2015. She explained that she was scheduled for TAPs all week but had to take her SNCOA Test that morning. While she was taking the test the system froze and she unable to complete it. Base training instructed her to come back the next day. She said she went to TAPs and that after she went back to the base to access her password and login information so that she could study at home. She stated her computer and tablet would not work with the program so she came back to work to use the computers on base to study. I asked if she entered the women's restroom that night. [REDACTED] stated she entered the restroom briefly to wash her hands because the command post restroom was usually out of paper towels. I asked if she went into the stalls at all and she stated she did not. I asked her if she noticed a bad smell or anything out of the ordinary and she stated she did not. [REDACTED] explained that she had heard that [REDACTED] was going around base telling people that she was responsible. [REDACTED] stated this made her upset and that it was not fair because now people are going to be talking about her in a negative way. [REDACTED] stated she has too much to lose in her career and that she is trying to promote and thought they had moved on from their past issues. I explained to [REDACTED] that we were still investigating the matter and that anything else she hears is just rumors until the investigation is concluded. I thanked [REDACTED] for her cooperation and concluded the interview. I updated [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] and informed them that at this point I have no other leads, and with the lack of an eyewitness or video footage to corroborate any possible suspects I have nothing further to go off of. They agreed there was not much else that could be done and told me to conclude my efforts for now and we would update leadership. As of 26 APR 2015 the case remains open until new evidence is discovered or received or someone comes forth with new information. ///End of Statement///. [REDACTED]
